SISTER OF MRS. W. G. IRWIN NEAR DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, November 24.—Mrs. Edward Moore Robinson, who, for years, was a great social favorite in New York, is critically ill at Ashwood, her home in Villanova. She has been one of the Philadelphia society leaders ever since she moved here from New York.

Mrs. Robinson is very beautiful and very popular. She is a Californian by birth, as she was Miss Aline Ives of San Francisco. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Robinson spent a greater part of their time in New York, where Mrs. Robinson immediately became a social favorite. A few years ago they moved to Philadelphia and purchased a beautiful home, where they entertained lavishly.

Mrs. Robinson was the patroness of every exclusive affair which took place and was a constant attendant at the opera.

Two years ago the health of the beautiful young society woman failed, and, accompanied by her husband, she went to Germany, where skilled specialists brought about what was considered a complete cure. Last winter, however, she was taken ill again and another journey abroad was arranged.

The second trip was not so successful, and when Mrs. Robinson returned to her country home last September she was very ill. She has not left her bed since. Mr. Robinson, who attended her untiringly during her illness abroad, is also ill from the nervous strain and has been kept to his bed until within the past week. His condition is now slightly improved. The couple have one son, Edward Moore Robinson Jr., who is about ten years old.

GOLDEN COMPANY SUSTAINS REPUTATION

There is a real artist at the Orpheum and his name is Jack Golden. He does not depend upon grotesque make-up or slap-stick work to make his audience laugh but by his artistic ability as a comedian of the highest order and complete command of facial expression he possesses the power of keeping the whole house in laughter whenever he is on the stage.

Golden grows upon his audience and one appreciates him more and more the oftener he is seen.

Last night's bill at the Orpheum was by far the best yet given from both the musical and comedy standpoint.

There were some very good numbers in the vaudeville olio, the Misses Clark and Clark doing a very acceptable sister act. Miss Cecile Stuart looked charming and sang her numbers with good effect and fine voice. Miss Phoebe Edwards made a great hit with her songs. They were good ones and caught the house by storm, she was repeatedly encoored and established herself as a favorite.

Jack Golden himself did a little stunt, coming out as a public speaker doing a political stump speech and he did it in full dress. It was funny. It was more than funny, every line being good.

His theme was politics yet he branched off into every conceivable subject until neither he nor the audience knew what he was talking about, yet every sentence carried with it a comedy point.

The musical comedy in one act was a delight—full of quick action and humorous situations. Many musical and dancing numbers were introduced, the chorus numbers being especially good. The chorus was pretty, sang and danced well and wore costumes that were new, clean and pleasing to the eye.

There is certainly a good show at the Orpheum these days.

NEW YEAR TRIP AND GREAT SIGHT

President Kennedy of the Inter-Island steamship company, will send an excursion to Hilo the day before New Year's, the steamer arriving there Saturday morning, when there will be races and other sports. An additional attraction will be the "Merchants Dance" on the occasion of the opening of the new Hilo Hotel.

The signal cause for the excursion is, however, the intense activity at the volcano. Never in many years has there been so much liquid lava in the lake and never has there been more glorious weather than the people at the crater are having these days. Captain Freeman of the Mauna Kea, says he can sit on the deck of the steamer and see the newspaper print from the glow over the volcano thirty-one miles away.

There is much to be seen in Hilo and the near vicinity. Those who do not wish to go direct to the volcano may spend the time around the city visiting Rainbow Falls, Cocoonut Island and the works at the breakwater.

Five miles away from town is Ono-mene arch famous throughout the world through its reproduction on postals and by lantern slides. It will be an opportunity to see these wonders at little expense and those who have never been should not miss this excursion. The additions to the volcano house assures greater and better accommodations to those who go.

CUT A CORN AND DIED.

The cutting of a corn resulted Sunday in the death of D. Keenu, a Hawaiian who lived in Kakaako, mauka of the government stables.

Keenu was troubled with a sore corn and about a month ago attempted to relieve the pain by paring it. He cut down until the toe bled, but paid no attention to it. A few days later the toe became very sore. Keenu paid no particular attention to it until the soreness became so great that he was unable to walk.

Neighbors tried to get the man to call a doctor, even offered to get him medical attendance, but he refused. Blood poisoning set in and he died Sunday in great pain. Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose was called after the man was dead, and the body was taken care of by him.
